FLINT GLASS STRIKE.

The Workmen in the U. S. Company's Factories Quit.

ONLY TWELVE ARE AFFECTED HERE

The Only Men at Work were in the Mold Shop at Factory O, and they promptly lay down their tools. The effort to start up with non-union men causes a fight which promises to be a determined one.

As announced in the INTELLIGENCER yesterday morning, President Smith, of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union, ordered a strike by all the workmen in the United States Glass Company's employ, to take effect yesterday at noon. There were but twelve members of the union at work in Wheeling, these being in the mold shop at Factory O, the old Central, and they promptly obeyed the order of the president and went out when the clock struck 12.

The resignations of Night-Manager Morningstar and Metal Mixer Fendt, of Factory H, as announced exclusively in yesterday's INTELLIGENCER, showed very plainly the feeling of the average Wheeling glassworker in regard to the effort to start up the United States company's factories non-union, and had all the glassworkers in Wheeling been busy, instead of all being idle, there is no doubt from the expressions heard yesterday that every man of them would have quit.

THE OFFICIAL DECLARATION.

The strike was precipitated by the following circular, sent to all the former workmen of the company on Tuesday:

"This company intends starting three of its factories on a basis whereby we shall be enabled to meet the competition we now find existing in the trade. It is our intention to employ each person as an individual; to have four and three-quarter hours constitute a turn, and to take off the limit on moves, thus enabling each workman to make good wages according to his ability. We intend to pay piece work as far as possible, and to pay the same wages that have prevailed throughout the past year, excepting only in such cases where our competitors are paying less.

"In starting the three factories referred to a preference will be given to our former employees. Applications may be made by letter or in person to Joseph Anderson, general manager United States Glass Company, Pittsburgh; R. J. Beatty, superintendent United States Glass Company, Tiffin, O., and to D. C. Jenkins, superintendent United States Glass Company, Gas City, Ind. Applications may also be made, if preferred, to the superintendents of any of the company's various factories, and the same will be forwarded to the Pittsburgh office.

"Should more applications be received than necessary to operate the three factories started, the management will then consider the question of starting additional factories.

MUST APPLY BEFORE OCTOBER 16.

"If the former workmen of this company do not apply for work in sufficient numbers to operate the three factories stated on or before October 16, 1893, at noon, the positions still unprovided for will be offered to others.

"If the state of trade will warrant it, it is the intention hereafter to give workmen steady employment throughout the entire year.

"Any person who accepts employment under this call may depend upon it that he will be continued in his position as against any and all applicants in the future. Such person shall only lose his position (so long as this company operates), through some act of his own that necessitates his discharge."

The circular is signed for the United States Glass Company by Joseph Anderson, general manager of the manufacturing department. The three factories referred to are those known as the King factory, on the South side, Pittsburgh; the Gas City plant and the Beatty factory, at Tiffin. It was to help start Factory K that Messrs. Morningstar and Fendt were summoned to Pittsburgh, and rather than go they resigned.

PRESIDENT SMITH TALKS.

W. J. Smith, president of the American Flint Glass Workers' Association, was seen by a Pittsburgh reporter, and when informed as to the contents of the circular, said: "Their programme is not new to us or our men; the men have been notified for several days past what to expect. A part of the programme that does not appear in the circular is that the company proposes to try and induce all the night and day foremen to get together in one plant, so as to create the impression that they are operating successfully outside the union and thus try to frighten members into accepting places at the company's terms. With a view to this the company has had agents circulating among the foremen, making them various promises, but many of the foremen thus approached have had the good sense to discern that the promises could last only long enough to permit the trust to accomplish the ends they aim at, and have refused point blank to work during the pending trouble. Workmen have been educated by experience to know how to appreciate the promises of the United States Glass Company. It is but a little while since many of the foremen whom they are now seeking to use against their former shopmates were stably treated by that company, and even without such treatment their reason would suggest to them that a company that would turn down old and reliable officers would not hesitate to summarily dismiss hundreds of workmen after they had pulled the chestnuts out of the fire, in other words, assisted the company's principal object, the destruction of the union."

AT FACTORY II.

At Factory II, on the South Side, not a wheel has turned since the summer stop, which commenced in June, this year, so that the order of the president of the Flints has no bearing on those who were employed there. The old workmen, however, are solid in their determination not to work in a non-union concern.

Said one glassworker yesterday: "The glassworkers' union has a million dollars in its treasury, and the action of the United States Company in deciding to run their plants non-union, marks the beginning of a fight between the two that will not end until either the company or the union is killed. It will be a long and bitter fight, but I think we will win out in the end."

The union glassworkers who go out will receive $5 a week from the union as long as they remain out.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

A Number of Petty Criminal Cases Disposed of There.

Yesterday Lulu B. Holden was before Squire Arkle, accused by her father of being a person not of good fame. She was sent to jail in default of bond for a hearing this evening.

J. F. Sumpter and Martha B. Holdman were charged by S. R. Holdman, the woman's husband, with illegal intimacy. She was arraigned and gave bond in $200 for her appearance for a hearing. Sumpter is in the city workhouse.

Squire Gillespie held a hearing at the jail office on the charge of lewd and lascivious conduct against Amos Drow and Martha Drow, Pearl Carr, Joseph Cavala, Lizzie Neal, William alias "Bee" Miller, and Mollie Ayers, and all seven were remanded to jail in default of a fine of $20 and costs each.

William Norman and William Breining were tried by the same justice on a charge of assault and battery on Warren Kraft. Norman was fined $10 and Breining $5 and costs, and each was required to give bond in $100 to keep the peace for one year.

New York Theatre Company.

"The Battle of Life" was the play presented by the New York Theatre Company at the Grand Opera House last night. The piece is a sensational comedy-drama, and the merits of the production were evidenced by the frequent and hearty outbursts of applause. The audience was sent home well satisfied, which is the best criterion of an evening's entertainment. To-night the company will present the beautiful and ever popular dramatic comedy-drama, "Hazel Kirke," which ran for over two years in New York city. An additional attraction will be a friendly sparring bout, for scientific points, between Jimmy Rowan and Kid McCoy and Jack Welch.

PLEASE take notice that I will close out my entire stock of Carpets, Oil Cloth, Rugs, Matting and Window Shades at a very low price, as I intend to move my place of business very soon. Call soon and you will get bargains.

Strikes at the root—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That's the reason so many different diseases and disorders yield to it. They all have the same beginning—there's a torpid liver or impure blood. And they all have the same ending—they're cured, by this remedy.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness; the most obstinate Skin and Scalp Disorders, such as Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, Eczema and kindred ailments; the worst forms of Scrofula—even Consumption for Lung-scurf—ulcers in its earlier stages; every blood-taint and disorder, no matter how it came—all are cured by it.

It's the only medicine for all such diseases that's so positively certain in its effects that it can be guaranteed. If it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, the money is refunded.

Nothing else can be "just as good." It may be better—for the dealer. But he isn't the one who needs help. Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at less prices.
